Self-Managed Care: Ask About Your Funding Rate

A letter to your Assisted Living Alberta case manager

What this is

This is a fill-in letter made by The Alberta Disability System Breakdown. It is not an official Government of Alberta or Assisted Living Alberta form. It opens and fills on any phone, tablet or computer, or you can print it and write by hand.

Why you might need it

Alberta Blue Cross told home care agencies that, effective October 1, 2026, the Client Directed Home Care Invoicing (CDHCI) program pays an updated hourly rate of $35.03 (Provider Benefact BE012-0044, September 2026). Assisted Living Alberta (ALA) sets that maximum rate.

No Self-Managed Care rate is published anywhere. As of October 29, 2026, we found nothing public saying whether SMC funding changed on October 1, or how SMC clients are told when their rate changes. This letter asks for the answer in writing.

How to use it

1. Fill in page 2. Everything in the boxes is yours to fill. The questions are already written for you.
2. Send it to your ALA home care case manager. If you do not know who that is, call the ALA Access Centre at 1-855-371-4122, or email ask@assistedlivingalberta.ca and ask for your case manager's contact.
3. If you email it, put your full name and your agreement or file number in the subject line, for example: "Jane Smith, SMC agreement 123456: questions about my funding rate."
4. Keep a copy of what you sent, and the date you sent it.
5. If you have someone who helps you run payroll, give them a copy of any answer you get. They are not part of your agreement, so ALA may not tell them.

What to keep together

Your SMC agreement, every approval or renewal letter, your quarterly reports, and your bank deposits. With no published rate, these papers are the only record of what you were owed and when.

Subject: Self-Managed Care, questions about my funding rate

Hello,

I receive home care funding through Self-Managed Care. Alberta Blue Cross has announced that, effective October 1, 2026, the Client Directed Home Care Invoicing program pays an updated hourly rate of $35.03. I have not received anything in writing about whether my Self-Managed Care funding has changed.

Please tell me in writing:

1. The funding amount or hourly rate in my current Self-Managed Care agreement, and how it is calculated.
2. Whether my funding changed on or after October 1, 2026, and if so, the new amount and the date it took effect.
3. If my funding increased, whether the increase will be paid back to the date it took effect, and when.
4. How Self-Managed Care clients are told when their funding rate changes.
5. A copy of my current agreement, and any amendment or funding letter issued since my last renewal.
6. A copy of the Self-Managed Care Program Manual, or whatever document sets out the program's current rules.
