

ADAP Employment Participation — Barriers Notice (Fillable)

A formal written notice that your disability prevents you from taking part in employment programming, with a request for written accommodation. Fillable on any device. Current for the program in force as of July 2, 2026.

What this notice is, and why it protects you

This is a formal written notice to the ADAP program stating that your disability prevents you from taking part in employment programming or training as required, and requesting accommodation in writing. You are not refusing to participate. You are documenting that you are unable to.

Here is why it works either way. If ADAP grants accommodation, you get the exemption from participation you need. If ADAP refuses or does not respond, you hold written proof that the program required participation and would not address the barrier that makes it impossible. Either outcome puts the record on your side. Keep a copy of everything you send and receive.

This form fills in on a phone, tablet, or computer, or you can print it and complete it by hand. If a section does not apply to you, leave it blank.

Section 3 — The Barriers (check all that are true for you)

- ☐ Episodic disability. My condition prevents reliable, predictable attendance.
- ☐ A mental health condition prevents me from attending group or public settings.
- ☐ My condition gives no advance warning, so I cannot plan attendance ahead of time.
- ☐ I cannot access transportation to programming, and no travel support is provided.
- ☐ Caregiver obligations. A dependent in my care needs direct supervision.
- ☐ Active medical needs mean I must stay available to respond to my own health.
- ☐ Other (describe below).

Describe your situation in your own words. Write what you cannot reliably do, how your condition is unpredictable, and why attending is not possible for you. Here is an example. Yours will be different, so write your own truth.

I have lived with severe [condition] since [year]. It flares without warning, and there are days and sometimes weeks when I cannot leave my home or function reliably. I cannot know in advance which days those will be, so I cannot commit to a set schedule of workshops or training. In the past I have tried employment programming and could not complete it, because my condition made consistent attendance impossible. Attending group settings also worsens my symptoms. I do not have reliable transportation and cannot afford to pay for it out of my monthly benefit. I am not refusing to take part. I am unable to take part safely and consistently given my condition.

Formal Notice — Barriers to ADAP Employment Participation — [Your Name], File [number]

Notice body (send this text with the form attached):

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to formally notify the ADAP program of documented barriers that prevent my participation in ADAP employment programming and training as currently required. My file was transitioned to ADAP as of July 2, 2026.

My identifying details and the specific barriers that apply to me are set out in this notice. The barriers I have identified are the grounds on which I am requesting written accommodation.

I am formally requesting written confirmation of the following:

1. What accommodations ADAP will provide in light of the barriers I have documented.
2. Whether non-attendance caused by these documented barriers will result in any reduction, suspension, or penalty to my benefits, and if so, the exact process available to me to dispute it.
3. Written confirmation that this notice has been received and placed in my file.

I am requesting a written response within 14 business days of the date below.

Date:

Your name and contact details in Section 1 serve as your signature on this notice.

Section 5 — How To Submit

- Fill in every section that applies, including the barriers in Section 3 and your description.
- Save it, or print it.
- Email it to your regional office (Section 2) using the subject line above, or mail it, or drop it off at an Alberta Supports office.
- Screenshot your sent email, or keep your mailing receipt.
- Save any auto-reply you get back. That is your proof of submission.

Section 6 — After You Send (protect yourself)

- If you get no response within 14 business days, reply to your original email asking for an update, and keep that message too.
- If ADAP penalizes you for non-attendance before it has responded to this notice, that is worth documenting. Bring it here and we will help you take the next step.
- Keep everything, dated, in one folder. This completed notice is the start of your evidence file.

The key principle, once more

If ADAP accommodates you, you get the support you need. If ADAP says no, or stays silent, you have documented proof that participation was required and the barrier was left unaddressed. There is no version of a completed, submitted notice that does not work in your favour.
