Overview

Albertans with disabilities and the organizations that support them have said they want supports that meet their unique needs and abilities, rather than the one-size-fits-all approach currently offered by the Assured Income for the Severely Handicapped (AISH) program.

The Alberta Disability Assistance Program \(ADAP\) will be offered in addition to AISH and will empower Albertans with disabilities to pursue fulfilling job opportunities while continuing to receive the financial, medical and personal supports they need.

During telephone townhalls and roundtables held in September, an online survey and feedback form, we heard from AISH clients, advocates, stakeholders and interested Albertans who want to help shape ADAP.

Get informed

Visit the ADAP webpage, read the ADAP Discussion Guide (also available ADAP large print Discussion Guide), and watch the videos below for more information. The Discussion Guides are screen reader friendly.

Survey

Albertans shared feedback on ADAP through an online survey from August 13 to September 14, 2025. Results are currently under review.

Telephone town halls

Two public town halls took place to provide more information about ADAP and answer questions.

Thursday, September 4 at 6 pm

Friday, September 5 at 12 pm

Written submissions

Albertans provided written feedback on ADAP through September 12, 2025. Results are currently under review.

Outcomes

Your feedback, along with government direction, research, analysis and lessons learned, will help shape the Alberta Disability Assistance Program so that Albertans with disabilities can access supports that meet their unique needs and abilities.
