

PDD C2N2 Referral Pathway – Family Guide & Checklist

This guide summarizes how C2N2 (Complex Needs Network) referrals may be used within PDD service coordination to access developmental and behavioural supports. It is designed as a working checklist for families to bring to case planning meetings.

1. What C2N2 is

C2N2 is a coordinated referral pathway used within complex developmental service systems. It connects PDD case management with partner agencies for assessment, planning, and coordinated supports.

2. Supports typically accessed through C2N2 referral

- ☐ Occupational Therapy (OT)
- ☐ Speech-Language Pathology (SLP)
- ☐ Behavioural assessments
- ☐ Risk assessments
- ☐ Functional / adaptive behaviour evaluations

3. How to request access

- ☐ Request a C2N2 referral directly from your PDD caseworker
- ☐ Clearly state required supports (OT / SLP / Behavioural / Risk Assessment)
- ☐ Ask how the referral will be submitted and tracked
- ☐ Request expected timelines for review or intake

4. Psychiatric / medical referral pathway (separate stream)

- ☐ Psychiatric services are typically accessed through physician or specialist referral
- ☐ These services may focus on mental health diagnosis and medication management
- ☐ This pathway is separate from developmental service planning (C2N2)

5. Service coordination overview (general)

- ☐ PDD case management (developmental supports)
- ☐ Developmental disability + mental health coordination streams (where applicable)
- ☐ Behavioural intervention planning services (as determined through assessment pathways)
- ☐ C2N2 acts as a coordination/referral mechanism between services
- ☐ Some individuals may also be referred to therapy-based supports such as DBT (Dialectical Behaviour Therapy), typically for individuals able to participate in structured therapeutic interventions and emotional regulation work.

6. Regional service clarification

In Calgary, families may hear services referred to through programs such as Arnika (Developmental Disabilities Mental Health).

In other Alberta regions, equivalent supports may be delivered through different regional agencies, outreach teams, or developmental disability mental health programs.

However, the key point remains the same:

→ Families using FMS often need to specifically request a C2N2 referral through their PDD caseworker to access complex needs assessments and coordinated behavioural/developmental supports.

7. Key advocacy checklist for meetings

- ☐ Confirm if the C2N2 referral has been submitted
- ☐ Request copy or confirmation of referral
- ☐ Ask what assessments are included
- ☐ Ensure OT / SLP / behavioural needs are explicitly documented
- ☐ Request updated service plan after assessments

8. Why this matters

These assessments may support:

- Updated service planning
- Funding justification
- Safety and risk planning
- Long-term developmental outcomes
- Improved coordination between support systems
- More accurate Outcome Plans that reflect actual support needs
