

Appealing a Special Needs Assistance for Seniors decision

Alberta | Special Needs Assistance for Seniors | Built 1 October 2026 | Large print

About this packet

This is a fillable working copy built by The Alberta Disability System Breakdown. It opens and fills on any phone, tablet or computer. It is NOT an official Government of Alberta form.

Steps 1 and 2 are letters you write yourself. Step 3 uses the program's own Notice of Appeal form, which is not published online; the program mails it to you after Step 2.

This packet is not legal advice. It is a way to put your own appeal in writing.

This packet helps you appeal a Special Needs Assistance for Seniors decision.

The program uses three steps. You must do them in order. Each step is a separate letter.

Step 3 uses a form called a Notice of Appeal. You cannot download it. The program mails it to you only after you finish Step 2. So Steps 1 and 2 are where you build your case.

Fill in what you can. Leave the rest blank. A short letter still counts.

What the rules say

The rule is section 9 of the Seniors Benefit Act General Regulation, AR 213/94.

You can appeal two things: whether you qualify, and how much you were paid.

The appeal goes in writing to the Minister.

The Minister may send your appeal to a panel of up to three people. The word is may, not must.

Only the panel can pay you back for more than 11 months. The rule is section 9(2)(d).

The panel's decision is final. The rule is section 9(4).

There is also section 8.2. It lets the Minister pay up to $5,000 for a senior who cannot meet the necessities of life. The regulation says $5,000 in each year. The program page calls it one-time. If this may apply to you, name section 8.2 in your letter.

Why this packet exists

Step 3 uses a form the program will not publish. It is mailed to you only after Step 2 is finished. That is why this packet puts your whole case in writing at Steps 1 and 2. Your written appeal stands on its own.

How you were told

How you were told matters. The program says it will send you a letter with the decision, the law it was made under, the evidence it looked at, and the reasons. If you were told by phone and nothing came in the mail, say so. That is part of your appeal.

I got the decision in writing.

I was told by phone or in person. Nothing came in writing.

Write the date you send this. The date you send matters more than the date you sign.

What you should get back

The program says its letter will tell you four things: the decision, the law it was made under, the evidence it looked at, and the reasons.

If any of those four are missing, say so in Step 2. Keep this page.

Step 2. Request a final review

Send this to: Assistant Deputy Minister, Seniors Division, PO Box 3100, Edmonton, Alberta T5J 4W3. Fax: 780-422-5954. Or upload it through Submit documents online at seniors.alberta.ca/submit-documents.

Check what the Step 1 letter gave you

Tick what the Step 1 letter gave you. If no letter ever came, tick the last box instead and say so in your own words below. A missing letter is a reason to appeal on its own.

- ☐ I was given the decision itself
- ☐ I was given the law it was decided under
- ☐ I was given the evidence that was considered
- ☐ I was given the reasons for the decision
- ☐ No letter ever came

What to put on the Notice of Appeal when it comes

Ask for the appeal to go to a panel. Section 9(2) lets the Minister send it there.

If you were paid late, ask the panel to go back more than 11 months. Only the panel can do this. The rule is section 9(2)(d).

Name section 8.2 if you cannot meet the necessities of life.

Attach this packet. It is your written appeal already.

If you believe a particular person handled your file wrongly, write that in your own words in the box below. Keep it to what you saw or were told, and give dates. Do not guess at why.
