

DOCUMENT 15 OF 15: SYSTEMATIC EXCLUSION ANALYSIS

Disguised as Opportunity: The Mathematical Design of ADAP Impossibility

This supplemental document provides critical evidence missing from the main report series, including updated family composition data, fiscal hypocrisy documentation, and the overarching framework that ties all evidence together under the central thesis of systematic exclusion disguised as opportunity.

SECTION A: CORRECTED PERSONAL CIRCUMSTANCES

UPDATED FAMILY COMPOSITION

The following corrects and updates personal family information referenced throughout the main report series:

Child	Current Age	Conditions	Genetic Documentation
Child 1	11 years	ADHD, cognitive processing challenges	2q13 microdeletion
Child 2	10 years	Autism, ADHD, heart issues, cognitive processing	3p13 microdeletion
Child 3	9 years	Autism, ADHD, heart issues, cognitive processing	3p13 microdeletion

Critical Age Factor: All three children (ages 9, 10, 11) exceed daycare age limits at most providers. Children with autism requiring routine consistency face particular barriers during transitions.

MATHEMATICAL IMPOSSIBILITY ANALYSIS

FSCD requires daycare participation as condition of ADAP eligibility. Universal daycare costs $326.25 per child monthly. For three children: $978.75 monthly requirement.

Season	Available Income	Daycare Requirement	Monthly Deficit	Impossibility %
Winter (snow removal)	$70.75	$978.75	-$908.00	1,281%
Summer (yard maintenance)	$873.36	$978.75	-$105.39	112%

SECTION B: FISCAL HYPOCRISY EVIDENCE

The $49 Million Healthcare Corruption vs. AISH Budget Cuts

SMOKING GUN EVIDENCE: Alberta Budget 2025 cut AISH funding by exactly $49 million citing 'fiscal necessity.' Simultaneously, Alberta Health Services lost exactly $49 million to healthcare procurement corruption involving MHCare Medical contracts that delivered no medication.

Category	Amount	Government Response	Impact
AISH Budget Cut	$49 million	Cited 'fiscal necessity'	79,000+ recipients affected
Healthcare Corruption Loss	$49 million	Legal recovery attempted	No other cuts made
Heritage Fund Deposits (2023-25)	$25 billion	Demonstrated surplus	Proves fiscal capacity

CORRUPTION SCANDAL DETAILS

- MHCare Medical awarded $70 million contract for children's pain medication from Turkey
- Alberta received only 30% of ordered medication despite paying full contract amount
- RCMP executed search warrants at MHCare offices Edmonton (March 2026)
- Former AHS CEO Athana Mentzelopoulos alleges firing for investigating irregularities
- $614 million total contracts secured by Mraiche-related firms since 2020
- Premier Danielle Smith confirms AHS pursuing legal action to recover funds

THE CONTRADICTION: Government absorbs corruption losses without equivalent cuts elsewhere while claiming identical amount must be cut from disability supports due to 'fiscal necessity.' This exposes false fiscal justification for ADAP transition.

SECTION C: SYSTEMATIC EXCLUSION DISGUISED AS OPPORTUNITY

THE OVERARCHING PATTERN

Analysis of the complete evidence reveals a systematic pattern: requirements are designed to appear reasonable on surface while being mathematically impossible for target populations to achieve. Non-compliance is then used to justify benefit reductions.

THE FIVE-STEP EXCLUSION PROCESS

- Step 1 - Create Impossible Requirements: Daycare costs ($978.75) exceed available income ($70-873) by 112-1,281%
- Step 2 - Eliminate Alternatives: Universal pricing removes market-based solutions; age limits exclude target children
- Step 3 - Ignore Documented Barriers: Autism routine disruption research; genetic processing challenges; therapeutic animal housing restrictions
- Step 4 - Blame Non-Compliance: Families classified as 'refusing to participate' when compliance is mathematically impossible
- Step 5 - Justify Cuts: Non-compliance statistics used to support transition to lower-benefit 'employment-focused' programming

GOVERNMENT CONTRADICTIONS TABLE

Government Position A	Government Position B	Logical Contradiction
Recipients permanently disabled	Recipients can work with supports	Cannot be both permanent AND employment-ready
Fiscal necessity requires cuts	Absorbs $49M corruption losses	Money exists but priorities exclude disabled
FSCD requires daycare participation	Daycare denies special needs children	Requires participation in inaccessible system
Federal savings matched long-term	Employment readiness programming	Contradicts permanent disability framework

CONCLUSION

This additional evidence completes the comprehensive case that ADAP transition requirements represent systematic exclusion disguised as opportunity. The fiscal hypocrisy evidence completely undermines government claims of fiscal necessity, while the personal financial analysis demonstrates mathematical impossibility at individual family level. The pattern is clear: this is not policy failure requiring technical adjustment. It is systematic exclusion with plausible deniability, designed to blame families for failing to achieve compliance with impossible requirements.
