Disability Income Assistance Application

The Disability Income Assistance (DIA) Application is a single application for both AISH and ADAP. AISH and ADAP will consider the information provided by the applicant and their health professional(s) to assess the severity of the individual's disability and understand how it impacts their ability to work. The DIA application is used to collect information from the applicant and their health professional(s) to decide if an applicant meets general, financial and medical requirements for the programs.

As a physician or nurse practitioner registered to practice in Alberta, , you may be asked to provide medical information for a patient who is applying for the Assured Income for the Severely Handicapped (AISH) or the Alberta Disability Assistance Program (ADAP). You may also be asked for updated medical information after a patient is receiving benefits to help AISH and/or ADAP understand whether their medical condition has changed.

In most cases, you will provide this information by:

- completing the Disability Income Assistance (DIA) Medical Report yourself or with assistance from specialists and/or other allied health professionals; and
- attaching additional medical reports or assessments from you, your consulting specialists and/or allied health professionals.

There are a few situations where the DIA Medical Report may not be needed. In these situations, other documents may be provided, including:

SITUATION	DOCUMENTATION
Applicant: • is receiving end-of-life palliative care • has been diagnosed with a terminal illness • has been assessed as needing Continuing Care	Applicant must provide the program with a letter or other documentation that describes their situation.
Applicant: • has a severe and profound developmental disability diagnosis where severity is clearly established through a documented Full Scale IQ (FSIQ) below 40	Health professional or applicant submits documentation for assessments completed within 5 years of the DIA Application including: • psychological • neuropsychological and/or • psychoeducational assessments.

Incomplete Applications

Applicants will be notified once their DIA Application is received and confirmed to be complete. If any required information is missing, applicants will be contacted to provide additional documentation. Complete applications support timely processing.

Applicants have six months to submit any required additional documentation. If all required information is not received within this timeframe, the application will be closed and a new application will be required.

If an application has been reviewed and a decision has been made to deny eligibility, applicants have 12 months from the date of the decision to submit new or additional information for reconsideration. After this period, a new application will be required.

Employment

To receive AISH, an individual must have a severe disability that permanently prevents employment. A Director may determine, without considering any factors other than the person's severe disability and its impact on the person's ability to participate in employment, whether the severe disability permanently prevents employment.

To receive ADAP, an individual must have a severe disability that substantially impedes employment continuously or episodically. A Director may determine, without considering any factors other than the person's severe disability and its impact on the person's ability to participate in employment, whether the severe disability substantially impedes employment continuously or episodically.

Getting application forms

To get a DIA Medical Report you can:

- visit alberta.ca/aish-how-to-apply.aspx, print the application and fill it in by hand, or fill it in on your computer and print it.
- request an application be sent from any Alberta Supports Centre (listed at the end of this guide).

Getting consent

When completing the Disability Income Assistance Medical Report, you are a custodian under the Health Information Act (HIA) and are responsible for obtaining your patient's consent to disclose their health information in accordance with the HIA. For assistance, contact the HIA Help Desk at 780-427-8089, or toll-free in Alberta by dialing 310-0000 then 780-427-8089, or by email at hiahelpdesk@gov.ab.ca. General HIA information can be found at: health.alberta.ca/about/Health-Information-act.html.

The DIA Medical Report and supporting medical information you provide will be used by the Government of Alberta to administer AISH and ADAP eligibility and benefits, as well as other government benefits. In accordance with the Protection of Privacy Act, the DIA Medical Report may be shared with:

- the applicant
- a medical consultant or psychological consultant on contract with the Ministry of Assisted Living and Social Services
- the Canada Pension Plan Disability program, to help determine the applicant's medical eligibility for that program
- an AISH Medical Review Panel
- a Citizen's Appeal Panel and/or Medical Appeal Panel in any appeal regarding the applicant's eligibility

Completing the Disability Income Assistance Medical Report

As a health professional, your role is to provide a complete and accurate picture of the applicant's:

- medical condition
- level of physical, mental and cognitive functioning
- limitations on capacity to function
- remedial therapy
- prognosis

The information you provide will assist us in determining their medical eligibility or continued eligibility for the program. AISH and ADAP will consider the information provided by the applicant and their medical professional(s) to assess the severity of the individual's disability and understand how it impacts their ability to work.

When completing the DIA Medical Report, it is important to:

- write legibly in blue or black ink
- complete the report fully, or it may be returned
- add pages if more space is needed to answer questions or provide additional information
- attach medical reports, assessments and other documentation from you, your consulting specialists and/or allied health professionals that relate to the applicant's presenting condition(s), diagnosis and impairments – do not send their entire medical record
- consider advising the applicant to submit any medical documentation they may have to support their DIA application, in addition to the information you are submitting
- It is important to note that only a subset of health professionals (physicians and nurse practitioners) are authorized to complete and sign the DIA Medical Report; otherwise, the application will not be processed
- provide copies of the DIA Medical Report and supporting documents to the client for their record.

Applicant Information

AISH and ADAP collect personal information about the applicant to confirm their identity. This information enables us to match the information submitted by the health professional, DIA Applicant Information and the DIA Medical Report submitted by the applicant.

Relationship with Applicant

We need to understand your relationship with the applicant and your history treating the medical condition that relates to the DIA application. Provide answers to these four questions to give background and context:

1. Are you a physician, nurse practitioner or specialist? If you are a specialist, describe your specialty.
2. How long have you been treating the applicant?
3. When did you last treat the applicant?
4. On average, how often do you see the applicant? Check the box on the form that applies:
 - once per week
 - 11-20 times per year
 - 6-10 times per year
 - 2-5 times per year
 - once per year
 - other

Diagnosis and Medical History

The information requested in this section helps us understand the applicant's medical condition that pertains to their DIA Application:

1. List the primary, secondary and tertiary medical and/or psychiatric conditions, if applicable. Include the date of onset and select the appropriate medical codes for each diagnosis from the chart in the application. If there are other relevant diagnoses, indicate them in the space provided.
2. Provide details about the diagnosis (or diagnoses), such as relevant etiology, classification, stage/grade/type of disease, etc. If you need more space, attach additional pages to the DIA Medical Report.

We need to understand the medical history and supporting evidence that relates to the medical and/or psychiatric conditions and diagnosis (or diagnoses). It is important to include supporting documentation to facilitate the adjudication of the application.

Provide additional details as indicated below:

1. Describe the medical history relevant to the condition/diagnosis (or diagnoses). Include the chronology of presenting symptoms and progression, if any.
 2. Describe the symptoms causing impairment for each diagnosis (or diagnoses).
 3. Check yes or no to indicate whether the applicant has been referred to one or more specialists for medical consultation and/or assessment. If yes, provide each specialist's name and specialty and attach consultation reports you have from specialists, such as:
 - cardiologists
 - surgeons
 - neurologists
 - rheumatologists
 - physiatrists
 - internists
 - gastroenterologists
 - neuropsychologists
 - orthopedics
 - psychiatrists
 - speech language pathologists
 - audiologists
 - occupational therapists
 - physical therapists
 - ophthalmologists
 - others
 4. Check yes or no to indicate if you are attaching any other supporting medical evidence for the condition/diagnosis(es), such as:
 - laboratory tests (e.g. blood work, biopsy, enzyme)
 - diagnostic reports (e.g. MRI, colonoscopy, pulmonary function tests)
 - diagnostic investigations/tests (e.g. ECG, EKG, imaging [x-ray, CT, ultrasound])
 - rehabilitative reports (e.g. brain injury programming, stroke rehabilitation, physiotherapy, occupational therapy, functional capacity exam/assessment)
 - specialty clinics (e.g. chronic pain program, stroke prevention clinic, cardiac function clinic, bariatric clinic, movement disorders clinic, MS clinic, FASD clinic)
 - psychological assessments/treatment/involvement (e.g. MOCA, MME, specialized assessments [cognitive, psychological, neuropsychological, psychoeducational, vocational] and/or treatment related progress notes)
 - psychiatrist reports (e.g. consult, assessment, progress notes related to treatment and/or psychotherapy).
- It may be helpful to advise the applicant to submit any medical documentation they have to support their DIA Application, in addition to the information you are providing.*
5. Provide admission and discharge dates if the applicant has spent time in a hospital or other treatment facility for the condition(s) you have diagnosed. Check yes or no to indicate if you are attaching supporting documents.

Degree of Impairment

You are asked to describe any physical, mental health, cognitive difficulties and/or functional limitations the applicant experiences on a regular and ongoing basis. AISH and ADAP eligibility is determined according to the symptoms that cause impairment, causal relationships between symptoms and functional limitations and levels of impairment.

We recognize you do not typically observe your patients for extended periods in routine activities such as lifting, carrying, sleeping, climbing stairs and personal care. To offer your best professional judgment about the applicant's functional limitations, symptoms and impairment levels, it is acceptable to draw from the consultative or documents you provided.

Provide additional details as indicated below:

1. Identify activities the applicant has difficulty performing due to functional limitations. Check the box for activities that apply and then describe the presenting functional limitations. Indicate whether the applicant can perform these activities independently or if they need assistance from another person or a medical device.
2. Identify the level of impairment the applicant experiences due to physical, mental health and cognitive aspects of their medical condition. For each aspect, check either none/not applicable, mild or slight impairment, medium or moderate impairment, or major or complete impairment. For all impairments identified, describe the symptoms causing the impairment level.
3. Consider all the information you provided in this section to assess the cumulative impairment level related to the applicant's medical condition. Describe the causal relationship between individual symptoms and the cumulative impairment level.

Remedial Therapy

We consider any medications the applicant is prescribed to manage the medical condition and how they impact functioning. List the applicant's medications along with start date, dosage and frequency, purpose, effect on functioning and any related symptoms. The chart in this section may be completed, or the box may be checked to indicate that a separate list is attached.

It is important to understand how the medical condition has been affected by past, current, and planned treatments, including any therapies or remedial interventions provided by treating or consulting health professionals.

Provide details for the first three items below, or the fourth if no treatment or remedial approaches have been tried or planned:

1. Describe the treatment history and results. Indicate whether results have been positive, inconclusive or negative. Specify if symptoms have developed, changed or remained the same due to the treatment(s).
2. Describe the current treatment plan. Include when treatment was initiated, anticipated results, and how often the treatment plan is reviewed and/or revised.
3. Indicate if further treatment is anticipated, including expected results with estimated timeframes.
4. Explain why no treatment or remedial approaches have been tried or planned (e.g., there may be no treatment or remedial therapy).

Prognosis

Give your professional opinion about your diagnosis (or diagnoses) and the likely duration of the medical condition(s). Describe the predictability of the medical condition(s) and related symptoms. Your prognosis is used to understand the impact the medical condition may have over time. Provide additional details to the questions below:

1. Indicate how long the medical condition will last by checking temporary, episodic, indefinite or undetermined. Give the estimated duration and other details to explain your prognosis.
2. Check Yes or No to answer whether any other medically related issues impact the applicant's response to treatment. If you select Yes, explain.
3. Indicate whether the applicant is following the recommended treatment plan by checking Yes or No and explaining the situation.

Additional Comments/Information

Use this section to provide any relevant information not addressed in previous sections. This may include additional details regarding the diagnosis, the applicant's medical condition, or specific symptoms affecting impairment and functional capacity. If additional space is required, attach supplementary pages. If the assessment is complete, indicate that no further information is available.

Certification

We must receive a signed DIA Medical Report to process a DIA Application for medical eligibility. Only a subset of health professionals (physicians and nurse practitioners) are authorized to complete and sign the DIA Medical Report.

Your professional registration number and office contact information must be provided.

Submitting Medical Information

It is important to promptly submit the DIA Medical Report. This will enable us to process the DIA application for medical eligibility. Ensure the DIA Medical Report is complete with supporting documents, signed by a health professional (physician or nurse practitioner), and includes a professional registration number and contact information. If information is missing from the DIA Medical Report package or the form is not signed, we will return the package to the office of the health professional for completion.

There are four ways to submit the medical report package:

1. email it to aishapply@gov.ab.ca
2. mail it to PO Box 17000 Station Main, Edmonton, AAB, T5J 4B3
3. fax it to 587-469-3006 (Edmonton area) or 1-877-969-3006
4. give it to the applicant to submit

Receiving Payment

The applicant is responsible for paying the fee to complete the DIA Medical Report. The fee for service consists of the equivalent to the Alberta Health Schedule of Medical Benefits, Code 03.04a (or equivalent specialty code) for the examination, plus a fee agreed to by the Alberta Medical Association for report completion.

The Government of Alberta may cover costs for the completion of the DIA Medical Report for applicants who are receiving Income Support. When the Alberta Government agrees to assume this cost, you will receive an expense approval letter from the Income Support Program or the applicant will give it to you. If the applicant needs more information, they can call the Alberta Supports Contact Centre at 1-877-644-9992 or 780-644-9992 within Edmonton, from 7:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday to Friday, except statutory holidays.

Alberta's government will cover the cost of one medical assessment for current AISH clients who transition to ADAP in July and later choose to be assessed for AISH. This support is not time-limited and will be available whenever clients choose to access it.

AISH and ADAP Program Overview

The Assured Income for the Severely Handicapped (AISH) program provides financial and health benefits to eligible adult Albertans with a severe disability that permanently prevents employment.

The Alberta Disability Assistance Program (ADAP) provides financial and health benefits to eligible adult Albertans with a severe disability that substantially impedes employment continuously or episodically.

If you are eligible for AISH or ADAP you may receive:

- a monthly living allowance – money to pay for your living costs such as food, rent and utilities
- a monthly child benefit – money to assist you with raising your dependent child(ren)
- health benefits – assistance to cover health needs for you, your spouse or partner and your dependent child(ren)
- personal benefits – money over and above your monthly living allowance for specific needs such as a special diet or assistance in an emergency

You can also get information from any Alberta Support office listed at the end of this guide, the Alberta Supports Contact Centre, or the AISH and ADAP Policy Manual at manuals.alberta.ca/aish-policy-manual.

The Health Professionals' Guide to Completing the Disability Income Assistance Application provides general information regarding AISH and ADAP and reflects the applicable legislation, regulations, and policy. In the event of any discrepancy between this guide, the policy, and the governing legislation or regulations, the legislation and regulations will apply.

The Ministry of Assisted Living and Social Services has sole responsibility for determining whether an applicant meets general, financial and medical eligibility criteria for programs. We assess all the evidence, both medical and non-medical, to reach the eligibility decision.
