

ASK FSCD TO LOOK AGAIN

Request for review · Accessible fillable version · The Alberta Disability System Breakdown · September 2026

THIS DOES NOT PAUSE YOUR 45 DAYS

Asking for a review does not stop your appeal clock. The FSCD manual says so in its own words. Your 45 days to appeal counts from the day FSCD first told you the decision, even if that was a phone call before the letter. Only mediation stops the clock. If your 45 days is running out, file the appeal as well. You can cancel an appeal later.

WHAT THIS IS

Two managers who did not make the first decision look at it again. They can keep it, change it, or overturn it. It is free.

WHAT THIS IS NOT

The review is not in the law. The manual calls it “an internal administrative review process that is identified in policy”. FSCD created it themselves, so a clear letter works. It is NOT an official Government of Alberta form. The government's own version, FSCD3561, is on the Government of Alberta forms site (cfr.forms.gov.ab.ca), and it will not open on a phone.

IF A WORD HERE IS NEW TO YOU

We keep a plain list of what these words mean, called The Words They Use. It is free on our site.

WHAT YOU WILL NEED BEFORE YOU START

Get these together first. It is easier than stopping halfway.

- Your decision letter, or the date they told you.
- Your child's file number, if you have one.
- Anything new they did not have when they decided. This is what makes a review work.
- To know how many days have passed. Count your appeal days from the day they first told you. See “The timing, and why it matters” at the end.

STEP 1: ABOUT YOU AND YOUR CHILD

Your full name

Up to 80 characters.

Your child's full name

Up to 80 characters.

Your phone number

A number they can reach you on.

Up to 30 characters.

Your email address

Leave blank if you prefer post.

Up to 80 characters.

File number

Leave blank if you cannot find one.

Up to 40 characters.

STEP 2: THE DECISION

Date on the letter

Your 30 days to ask for a review runs from here.

Up to 20 characters.

If they told you before the letter, what date?

Your 45 days to appeal started on the day they first told you, so it may be earlier than the letter.

Up to 40 characters.

What did they decide?

What they said no to, or what they cut. A few sentences.

Up to 1,200 characters.

STEP 3: WHY, AND WHAT IS NEW

Why should they look again?

Two things help. Say what they got wrong. And say what they did not have when they decided.

Up to 2,500 characters.

What are you sending with it?

A new report, an assessment, a letter from a doctor or school. If nothing, write none.

Up to 600 characters.

How would you like to take part?

Tick any that suit you. They have to make arrangements.

☐ in person

☐ by phone

☐ by video call

☐ by email

Your signature

Typing your name is enough.

Up to 80 characters.

Today's date

Year, month, day.

Up to 20 characters.

AFTER YOU SEND IT

- 1

Two managers look at it.

At least one Delivery Manager who was not involved, plus one other uninvolved manager.
- 2

They look at the decision and at anything new.

They consider how the decision was made, what was used to make it, and whatever you have sent them.
- 3

They have 15 days.

The manual says the review must be finished within 15 calendar days of them getting your request.
- 4

They tell you within 10 more days.

The outcome must reach you within 10 calendar days of the review date. They can keep the decision, change it, or overturn it.

THE TIMING, AND WHY IT MATTERS

Add those up. Thirty days to ask, fifteen days for the review, ten more to tell you. The answer can arrive after your appeal deadline has already gone.

If you ask on	The answer comes about	Appeal deadline	What that means
Day 20	Day 45	Day 45	You just make it
Day 21	Day 46	Day 45	Too late to appeal
Day 30, the last day you can ask	Day 55	Day 45	Ten days too late

This table assumes they told you the decision on the same day as the letter. If they told you earlier, your appeal deadline is earlier too.

So ask early. Ask by day 20 if you can. And file the appeal as well if the date is getting close.

WHERE TO SEND IT

To the Disability Services office holding your child's file, or the address on the decision letter. Ask them to confirm in writing that they received it.

WHAT TO KEEP

- A copy of every page you send.
- A note of the date you sent it and how.
- Your caseworker is supposed to tell you the appeal deadline. If nobody did, write that down.
