How to Fill Out Part A of the AISH and ADAP Application

Form DS2444A, "Disability Income Assistance Applicant Information", Rev. 2026-10
A plain-language walkthrough, page by page and question by question.
Checked against the government's own Rev. 2026-10 form on November 9, 2026. The questions on our fillable copy match it.

THE WHOLE FORM IN 30 SECONDS

1. Read the "Your Situation" page first. It may let you skip half the form.
2. Fill in the sections about you, your partner, your kids and anyone with legal power over your money.
3. Tell them about your work history and your schooling.
4. List your income and the things you own (unless the shortcut page lets you skip those).
5. Sign the Declaration and the 3 Consents.
6. Send it with copies of your documents. Your doctor or nurse practitioner does Part B, the medical report.

Before You Start

What is this form?

It is the one application for both programs: AISH (Assured Income for the Severely Handicapped) and ADAP (the Alberta Disability Assistance Program). The government calls the whole thing the "Disability Income Assistance Application", or DIA for short.

It comes in 2 parts:

- Part A (DS2444A): about you. You fill this one in. This guide is about Part A.
- Part B (DS2444B): the medical report. Your doctor or nurse practitioner fills that one in.

Where to get it

- Our accessible fillable copy opens and fills right on your phone. No computer or printer needed:

albertadisabilitysystembreakdown.netlify.app/pdfs/aish-adap/fillable/DS2444A_fillable_Rev2026-10.pdf

- The government's version is online at dia.alberta.ca.

Our copy is a working copy, not an official government form. It asks every question the official form asks.

The little star *

A star beside a question means you must answer it. No star means it is optional.

Gather these before you sit down

- Your ID that shows your full legal name, date of birth, a recent picture and your signature
- Something that shows you live in Alberta
- Your Social Insurance Number (SIN) and your Alberta health card number (PHN)
- Your Record of Landing, only if you immigrated to Canada
- ID for your spouse or partner and each child, if you have them
- Your legal trustee or power of attorney paper, if you have one
- Your last 3 months of pay stubs, if you work
- Papers that show any other income you get, and bank statements or papers that show what you own

DON'T SEND ORIGINALS. Send copies only. The form says originals will not be given back to you.

GETTING HELP. The form says someone can help you fill it in. You can also call the Alberta Supports Contact Centre at 1-877-644-9992, Monday to Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. (closed statutory holidays). Running out of room on a question? Attach extra pages.

Step 1: "Your Situation" (the shortcut page)

Read this page first. If one of these fits you, you get to skip parts of the form.

Shortcut 1: Palliative care or a care facility

Tick Yes if you are getting palliative care (care to keep you comfortable when an illness can't be cured), or a medical professional told you your illness is terminal.

Also tick Yes if you live in, or have been approved and are waiting for, a permanent care facility, continuing care home or something like it. It then asks if a medical professional assessed you as needing that placement.

If this is you: skip Employment History and Education/Training History. Send medical papers instead of the full medical report (Part B).

Shortcut 2: You are on Income Support

Income Support is a separate program (people sometimes call it Alberta Works). If you get Income Support: skip Income Information and Asset Information.

Shortcut 3: You were moved from AISH to ADAP and want back on AISH

Tick Yes. Then you only fill in these 3 sections:

- Information About You
- Employment History
- Education/Training History

You also need the medical report (Part B), filled in by a doctor or nurse practitioner registered in Alberta.

Everyone else ticks No and fills in every section.

> OUR TIP: Shortcut 3 does not say to skip the Declaration and Consents at the end. Sign them anyway. A form without signatures can be sent back to you.

Stop sign: you may not need this form at all

If you stopped getting AISH or ADAP less than 2 years ago and your medical condition has not changed, the form says to contact an Alberta Supports office to find out how to apply instead.

Step 2: Information About You (Questions 1 to 7)

Our copy: pages 1 and 2 | Government copy: page 1

Attach: a copy of your ID (full legal name, date of birth, recent picture, signature), something that shows you live in Alberta, and your Record of Landing if you immigrated.

Q1. Have you received AISH or ADAP benefits in the last 24 months?
24 months is 2 years. Pick one:

- "Yes, my file was transitioned to ADAP as of July 2, 2026": you were on AISH and got moved to ADAP.
- "Yes, I was receiving AISH or ADAP within the last 24 months but stopped": you were on it and your benefits ended.
- "No": you have not been on either one in the last 2 years.

Q2. Are you waiting for an outcome on a previous AISH application and wondering if you should reapply now?
This one confuses people. It is only for someone who sent in a brand new AISH application before July 2, 2026 and is still waiting for an answer.

- Already on AISH or ADAP? Tick No.
- Still waiting on an AISH application from before July 2? The form says stop, don't fill this out. Wait for that decision. If it puts you on ADAP, you can apply for AISH then.

Q3. Are you currently receiving Income Support?
Income Support is not ADAP and it is not AISH. Tick No unless you get an Income Support payment.

Your name, birthday and numbers

- Last, first and middle name: your full legal name, the way it is on your ID.
- Last name on birth certificate: only if it is different now (for example, you changed it when you married).
- Other preferred first name: the name you go by, if it is different.
- Social Insurance Number (SIN): your 9-digit number from your SIN letter or your tax papers.
- Personal Health Number (PHN): the 9-digit number on your Alberta health card. No card yet? Tick "I do not have or I am waiting for a PHN".
- Home phone and email: both have a star. If you don't have an email address, call the Contact Centre and ask what to put.

Q4. Are you a resident of Alberta?
Do you live in Alberta? Yes or No.

Q5. Did you immigrate to Canada or are you a foreign national?
Born in Canada? Tick No. "Foreign national" means someone who is not a Canadian citizen or a permanent resident.

Q6. What is your citizenship/immigration status?
Canadian citizen, permanent resident, sponsored immigrant or other. If you are a sponsored immigrant (a family member signed to support you when you came to Canada), give the start and end dates of the sponsorship and include your Record of Landing (the paper you got when you landed as a permanent resident).

Q7. Check the box that describes your living situation

Pick the one that fits:

- Rent / Own: you rent your home, or you own it.
- Public/social housing: government or nonprofit housing where rent is based on your income.
- Live with relatives, Shelter, Continuing care home, Group home, No fixed address: what they say.
- Institution: a place the Alberta government has named a mental health facility, or a penitentiary or halfway house.

Then your address. Only fill in "mailing address" if your mail goes somewhere else.

Step 3: Spouse/Partner Information (Questions 8 and 9)

Our copy: page 2 | Government copy: page 2

Q8. Marital Status
Pick one: Single, Married, Partner, or Separated from spouse or partner.

- Single or Separated: skip ahead to Dependent Child(ren).
- Married or Partner: fill in your spouse or partner's name, birthday, gender and SIN, and attach a copy of their ID.

> WHAT COUNTS AS A "PARTNER"? The government's AISH and ADAP policy manual (July 2026) says a partner is someone you live with where you share your lives, are emotionally committed, and run your home and money together as a unit. There is no waiting period, like the 3 years some other rules use. A roommate who just splits the rent is not a partner. A relative by blood only counts as a partner if you signed a formal Adult Interdependent Partner agreement.

Q9. Is your spouse/partner currently receiving AISH, ADAP or Income Support benefits?
Yes or No.

Step 4: Dependent Child(ren) Information (Question 10)

Q10. Do you have a dependent child(ren)?
A dependent child is a child you support. No? Skip to Trustee/Power of Attorney. Yes? For each child: name, date of birth, and whether they live with you. If a child is 18 or 19, it asks if they are still in high school.
Attach ID for each child that shows their full legal name and date of birth (a birth certificate works). More than 2 kids? Attach an extra page.

Step 5: Trustee/Power of Attorney (Question 11)

Q11. Do you have a Legal Trustee or someone currently acting under a Legal Power of Attorney?

This means someone with legal power over your money:

- A trustee is a person a court appointed to manage your money.
- A power of attorney is a legal paper you signed giving someone the power to handle your money.

A family member who just helps you out does not count. No? Skip to Employment History. Yes? Give their name, phone and mailing address, and attach a copy of the legal paper.

Step 6: Employment History (Questions 12 to 21)

Both programs look at how your disability affects your ability to work. This section is where you tell them, in your own words.

Q12. Did you use any employment services or supports to help you find work?
These are programs that help people find or keep a job, like:

- DRES (Disability Related Employment Supports): help with things like job coaching or work equipment
- RES (Rapid Employment Services)
- Alberta Career and Employment Information Services

Yes? List what they suggested and what you tried. No? Say why (for example, your health didn't allow it, or you didn't know about them).

Q13. Are you willing to work if given the opportunity?
Yes or No. If No, explain.

> OUR TIP: There is no trick answer here. Answer what is true for you. If you tick Yes, use Question 15 to explain what your disability lets you do and what it doesn't.

Q14. What steps have you taken to find work that is compatible with your disability?
"Compatible" means work your disability would let you do. Write what you tried: job applications, part-time work, volunteering, talking to your doctor about work, an employment program. If you couldn't try, say why.

Q15. Please share any relevant information about your experience with managing your disability and its impact on your ability to work. (optional)
"Optional" means you can leave it blank.

> OUR TIP: Don't leave it blank. This is the one box where you get to explain your life. Describe your bad days, not just your good ones. What happens when you try to work? How long can you work before your symptoms stop you? What changes at work have you tried? Attach a page if you need more room.

Q16. Are you currently employed?
Yes? Your employer's name (or "self-employed"), the month and year you started, and the type of work: full-time, part-time, seasonal, casual, temporary, self-employment, on leave (for example, medical leave), or other.

Q17 to Q21. Previous Employment
Q17: Have you ever had a job? No? Skip to Education/Training History. Yes? For each job:

- Employer name, start date and end date (month and year)
- Q18: your job title and what you did
- Q19: if full-time, part-time or self-employed, about how many hours a week you worked
- Q20: if seasonal, casual, temporary, on leave or other, explain how often you worked
- Q21: why you left. If you left because of your health, tick "Medical condition".

Can't remember exact dates? Your best estimate is fine. More jobs than fit? Attach extra pages.

Step 7: Education/Training History (Questions 22 to 27)

Our copy: pages 4 and 5 | Government copy: page 4

Q22. What education or training have you completed?
Tick the highest one you finished. A few terms:

- High school certification of achievement: a certificate some students get instead of a diploma.
- CAEC (Canadian Adult Education Credential): the new name for the GED, the high school equivalency test.

Then the school name, any degree or diploma, and the last year you went.

Q23. What training have you completed?
Pick what fits: training or upgrading, trades or journeyman, non-credential courses (like college prep or English as a second language), or "None of the above". Give the school, course, level and year where it asks.

Q24. What steps have you taken to find training that is compatible with your disability?
Same idea as Question 14, for school or training. If you couldn't, say why.

Q25 and Q26. Are you in school now? Are you planning more training soon?
Yes or No. If Yes, give the school, program and dates.

Q27. What are your goals upon completing training?
If you aren't in training and aren't planning any, write "Not applicable".

Step 8: Income Information (Questions 28 to 45)

Our copy: pages 5 and 6 | Government copy: page 5

Skip this section if a shortcut on the "Your Situation" page told you to.

For each kind of income that you or your spouse or partner gets, tick Yes and write the average monthly amount. Send papers that show it.

> AVERAGE MONTHLY AMOUNT: if the amount changes month to month, one simple way to work it out is to add up the last 3 months and divide by 3.

On the form	What it means
28. Employment	Pay from a job. Send your last 3 months of pay stubs.
29. Self-employment	Money from working for yourself.
30. Employment Insurance (EI)	Federal payments when you are off work.
31. Canada Disability Benefit (CDB)	The federal monthly disability benefit.
32. Canada Pension Plan (CPP)	Any CPP payment, including CPP Disability.
33. Old Age Security (OAS)	The federal pension for people 65 and older.
34. Disability/wage loss insurance	Insurance that pays you when you can't work, like long-term disability through a job.
35. Pension from previous employment	A pension from a past job.
36. Income from trust account(s)	Payments to you from a trust.
37. Income from investments	Interest or other earnings on money you have invested.
38. Income from a rental property	Rent people pay you.
39. Life insurance income	Payments from a life insurance policy.
40. Guaranteed income supplement	The federal top-up for seniors on OAS with low income.
41. Spousal support/alimony	Support payments from a former spouse.

42. Workers' Compensation Benefits	WCB payments for a work injury.

Q43. Do you or your spouse/partner have other sources of income?
Anything not on the list. Say what it is and how much, and send papers.

> OUR TIP: Not sure if something counts? List it. Reporting it doesn't mean it will be counted against you. The office decides how each kind of income is treated.

Q44. Have you or your spouse/partner received a special payment in the past 12 months?
A "special payment" is a one-time lump of money. The form's examples: cash gifts, an inheritance, money from selling your home or your main or adapted vehicle, and money you got as a victim of a crime or a car accident. If Yes, say what it was, how much and when, and send papers.

Q45. Have you or your spouse applied for the Disability Tax Credit (DTC) and/or Canada Disability Benefits (CDB)?
The DTC (Disability Tax Credit) is a federal tax credit you apply for with form T2201. You must be approved for the DTC before you can get the CDB. The form says AISH and ADAP require you to apply for all income you may qualify for, and the CDB is one of them.

Step 9: Asset Information (Questions 46 to 66)

Our copy: pages 6 and 7 | Government copy: page 6

Skip this section if a shortcut on the "Your Situation" page told you to.

An asset is something you own that is worth money. Fill in only the ones you or your spouse or partner have. A rough value is fine. Send papers (like a bank statement).

> THE STARS MATTER HERE.
> One star  means the form says this asset is exempt: it does not affect whether you qualify. You still have to list it.
> Two stars * means it may be exempt, depending on your situation.

On the form	What it means
46. Bank account(s)	All of them: chequing, savings, every bank.
47. Cash and uncashed cheques	Money on hand, and cheques you haven't cashed.
48. GICs, term deposits	Money locked in at a bank for a set time.
49. RRSP, RRIF	Retirement savings accounts.
50. Annuities	A contract that pays you a set amount over time.
51. LIRA *	Locked-In Retirement Account: a pension from a job moved into a locked account. Exempt.
52. RDSP *	Registered Disability Savings Plan. Exempt.
53. RESP	Education savings for a child.
54. TFSA	Tax-Free Savings Account.
55. Stocks and/or bonds	Investments.
56. Trust funds	Money held in a trust for you.
57. Life insurance (cash surrender value)	What you would get if you cashed in the policy today. Your insurance company can tell you.
58. Vehicle(s) 	Cars and trucks. It also asks how many you have.
59. Vehicle adapted for a disability 	A vehicle changed to fit your disability.

60. Recreational vehicle(s)	Motorhome, boat, snowmobile and so on.
61. Other vehicle	Any other vehicle.
62. Home/principal residence *	The home you live in. Exempt.
63. Recreational property	A cabin or lake lot.
64. Rental property	Property you rent out.
65. Farm	Farm property. It also asks if you live on a home quarter section (marked exempt) and if you own other land. The form lists the farm papers to send.
66. Business	A business you own. The form lists the business papers to send.

Step 10: The Declaration (sign it)

By signing, you are saying everything on the form is true and complete. The form warns that leaving something out on purpose, or giving false information, is an offence that could lead to criminal charges.

- Print your name, write the date, sign.
- The date goes day, month, year: November 9, 2026 is 09-11-2026.
- The guardian, co-decision-maker, agent and trustee lines are only for someone who has legal authority to act for you. Leave them blank if that's not you.

Step 11: The 3 Consents (sign each one)

Our copy: pages 7 to 9 | Government copy: pages 7 and 8

A consent is your permission. There are 3, and each one has its own signature lines.

Consent 1: AISH and ADAP Consent
Lets AISH and ADAP ask other people and places (like a bank or an employer) for information about your household, schooling, work and money, to decide if you qualify. You can take it back in writing, but the form warns that may affect whether you qualify.

> DON'T SKIP THIS LINE: right under Consent 1, you can name a person or organization that AISH and ADAP can talk to about your application. Put someone you trust, like a family member or an advocate, with their phone number. Then they can call for you.

Consent 2: Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) Consent
Lets the CRA share your tax information with the ministry to check if you qualify. If you have a spouse or partner, they sign here too.

Consent 3: Canada Pension Plan Disability (CPP-D) Consent
CPP-D is a federal disability pension. AISH and ADAP require you to use all the income you can get, so they will check whether you qualify for CPP-D. This consent lets them send your forms and medical report to CPP-D, and lets CPP-D send its decision back. It lasts 3 years from the day you sign.

Step 12: Send It In

Pick one way to send Part A and your copies:

How	Where
Online	dia.alberta.ca
Fax	587-469-3006 (Edmonton area) or 1-877-969-3006 (toll-free)
Email	ApplyDIA@gov.ab.ca
Mail	PO Box 17000 Station Main, Edmonton, AB, T5J 4B3

> OUR TIPS:
> - Keep a copy of everything you send. Write down the date and how you sent it.
> - Emailing it? Put your full name in the subject line. If you already have a file number (everyone moved from AISH to ADAP does), put your full name and file number in the subject line.

Part B, the medical report

Take Part B (DS2444B) to your doctor or nurse practitioner. They can send it straight to the office and give you a copy, or give it to you to send with Part A.

There may be a fee. The form says if you need help paying it, contact the Alberta Supports Contact Centre (1-877-644-9992) for options. Already on ADAP? Email your local AISH or ADAP office first and ask them to preapprove the fee, with your full name and file number in the subject line.

What happens next

The form says they will contact you by phone or mail if they need more information, and again once they make a decision.
