

Maintenance Medications Frequent Dispensing Authorization Form

Fillable copy. This copy holds the same information as the Alberta Blue Cross sample form (BE011-0157, 2026/09) so you can read it and fill it in ahead of time. It is not an Alberta Blue Cross document. Your pharmacy may use its own version of this form. The official sample is at ab.bluecross.ca/pdfs/maintenance-med-fda-form.pdf

- This form is to inform patients that a pharmacist has initiated frequent dispensing for their chronic and long-term medication.
- This form is required for less than 84 days dispensing of maintenance medications (as defined in Alberta Blue Cross Reference Guide for Alberta Pharmacies).
- This form must be updated every 12 months.
- Please retain the original copy of this form for 2 years for audit and compliance purposes.
- A patient's agent means a family member, caregiver, public guardian or another individual whom the pharmacist is reasonably satisfied has the authorization of the patient to engage with the pharmacy team (as defined in Alberta College of Pharmacy Standards of Practice for Pharmacists and Pharmacy Technicians).
- Pharmacists are required to seek and document consent from the patient/patient's agent through appropriate means, consistent with the Alberta College of Pharmacy standards of practice.
- This is NOT a standardized form. The format and layout are at the discretion of the pharmacy business; however, all required information elements included in this sample form must be captured and documented to fulfill ABC audit and claims verification requirements.

Before you sign: a plain-language guide

Prepared by The Alberta Disability System Breakdown. This page is not part of the Alberta Blue Cross form.

What this form is

Since October 1, 2026, Alberta Blue Cross only pays a pharmacy its full fee for long-term ("maintenance") medications when they are filled as at least an 84-day supply, about 3 months. If your pharmacy fills them more often, for example every 28 days, it has to have you sign this form and give a reason.

The line to read carefully

"Dispensing my medication more frequently may result in additional dispensing fees." A dispensing fee is the pharmacy's charge for filling a prescription. Before you sign, ask:

- Will I be charged anything for shorter fills? How much, each time?
- Can I get a 3-month supply instead?
- Which reason are you ticking on the form, and why?

Your rights, as printed on the form

- You get a copy of what you sign.
- You can refuse shorter fills, or withdraw consent, at any time: in writing, by email, or by telling your pharmacist.
- You can call Alberta Blue Cross at 1-866-441-8477 about your pharmacy's billing.
- The form has to be renewed every 12 months.

If you need shorter fills

Some people need medication more often: for safety, in blister or compliance packs, or because their condition is not stable yet. "Physician/Nurse Practitioner direction" is the strongest reason on the form. It is also one of only three reasons that cover fills shorter than 28 days. You can ask your doctor or nurse practitioner for a short note like this:

*"I am directing that [patient name]'s maintenance medications be dispensed every [number] days because [medical reason, for example: safety, compliance packaging, unstable condition, risk of overuse]. Please apply the Physician/Nurse Practitioner direction rationale."
Signed, dated, with the prescriber's name and practice ID.*

Keep a record

- Keep every pharmacy receipt from October 1, 2026 onward.
- If you are charged something new, ask the pharmacy to write down what the charge is for.
- Ask your pharmacy for a printout of your prescription payment history. It shows what you paid before and after.
